I can use target conjunctions.

~~Yesterday~~ Yesterday, we went on a beach trip. On the way I was talking to Mrs Hurkin about school and how things have ~~been~~ for me. It was a long walk and unfortunately for me I had a bad, sore leg. Whilst we were going down the staircases, I was avoiding bumps and then telling Mrs Hurkin that the bump was there.

When we got there, we had a quick snack. Whilst we had snack we listened to Mr. Leathers sit down, and put on some sunscreen. I brought with me a huge, see-through bottle of water, my packed lunch and also I brought extra clothes (for just in case reasons).

Firstly, my group (Gutwreeds) went rockpooling with Mr. Leathers, despite me not finding any Blerries. I found a huge crab! Mr. Leathers found 2 Blerries (which can live on land for an hour!) and he held it up to show everyone. Surprisingly enough the Blerie was biting him!

Then, we moved on to sculptures and I made one of my favorite pokémon starters, Mukkip. It took no time to draw the outline but it took ages to do the stones. I nearly finished the stones when time runs out. Then we took a lunch break and I had mozzarella and ham sandwiches with hoola hoops and groovy bitint.

Finally, we did maths ^{xc} which was finding and matching pebbles. After that Mrs Hurkin gave was a challenge to build a rock tower and whoever built the tallest tower would get a house point. Later we had a long walk somehow longer than the first one.
